ANOTHER ANARCHISTIC REVOLT.

A Ferocious-Looking Man Comes to Order in Judge Lawrence's Court.

A big man, ragged of overcoat and shaggy of beard, entered Part II. of the Supreme Court, where Judge Lawrence was sitting.

His wild slouch had been pulled well down over his eyes, and it remained there while he seated himself in court, unheeding the order of the court officer: "Take off that hat."

The man wore a flaming red butterfly necktie, besides his ferocious look. But that did not deter Court Officer Barney Kiernan from stepping briskly up to him and deftly jerking the slouched hat off the shaggy head.

The man gave a scowl of rage, and Barney led him forcibly to the door and ejected him.

Court Policeman Hen Howe was in the corridor, and attracted by the howl of the man, approached, prepared for a desperate struggle. But the "Anarchist" must have heard something drop in Chicago last week, for he became immediately docile, and assumed the blue coat that he "voord co mit" him.

He was led out of the building and into the corridor, where he emitted sundry other howls for vengeance against the fiend of the law.

His exit was witnessed by about two hundred people, who had rushed out of courtrooms and offices, and were leaning over the railings on the upper floors of the rotunda with pale and anxious faces, and they breathed a sigh of relief as they saw the man with the red tie disappear rapidly, but not gracefully.

WHY HE LEFT THE BOX.

An Incident of a Ball Game Between the Buffalo and Providence Teams.

The baseball convention just ended at the Fifth Avenue brought out many good stories of the diamond, which were told in odd corners while the League committee and the Brotherhood representatives were enjoying their conference behind closed doors.

Among the stories related was one about "Jimmie" Galvin, over which Harry Wright and a group of League notables laughed heartily and well.

The incident happened at Buffalo, where the Providence team were pitted against the home players. Galvin pitched for the Bisons and the ball was hit four times in its first four starts towards the catcher.

Four successive errors for the Buffalo infield followed these four taps on the sphere and four Providence men got unearned bases.

Gravely, then, "Jimmie" laid the ball down on pitcher's box, beckoned to the change pitcher to come in from right field, and he himself started out.

"Where are you going?" roared the captain.

"Out in the field."

"And what for? Who told you to?"

"Well," replied the irate James, in grand tones, "I'd a had to go out if those had been his hits."

A Reasonable Proposition.

[From Harper's Bazar.]

"Tommy," said the school-teacher, "spell measles."

Tommy made the attempt with the confidence born of youth, but faltered hopelessly.

"I am surprised, Tommy," she said, "Did you study your lesson?"

"Yes, yes," said Tommy, "I expect a boy to spell measles when he's never had 'em," was the way Tommy tried to get out of it.

Footlight Flashback.

"Cordelia's Aspirations" will not be at Harrigan's Theatre after to-night. To-morrow "Pete" will be given.

Tony Pastor has a good company at his little theatre, and tonight he has no means an unknown article there.

At the Union Square Theatre Robson and Crane are still playing in Bronson Howard's successful comedy, "The Begum."

At the Fourteenth Street Theatre that great favorite, Denham Thompson, will appear to-night in "The Honorable Member."

Dockstader will be as amusing as ever to-night, and the programme he offers is, as usual, an excellent one.

"The Black Faust" is a great hit.

The admirable company at the Madison Square Theatre, under the management of Mrs. H. H. Jacobs, is doing well.

At the Eden Music there are daily concerts. The music is a good one, and the programme is well selected.
